Mr. and Mrs. Mark Thompson observed the 50th anniversary of their marriage at their home in Shelburne today. Mr. Thompson is 70 and his wife is 70 years old.

James P. Taylor, for 10 years secretary of the Burlington chamber of commerce, who resigned early in the year, has been unanimously elected to that position again and will return to the post Nov. 1. He succeeds George P. Vennart, who resigned several weeks ago.

St. Johnsbury got a three-inch snow fall Thursday night. The records at the Fairbanks museum show that this is the coldest October on record in the 20 years that figures have been kept and it also has the largest snowfall of any October since records were made. Only one October has shown a trace of snow in 10 years and that was last year, and the majority of years for the 20-year period have shown no trace at all.

Mrs. Raymond C. Ransom of Castleton is the Republican candidate for the position of representative to the legislature this fall, opposing Hollis Johnson, Democrat. Mrs. Ransom is 43 years old, a graduate of the Castleton Normal school, a teacher for five years and prominent in educational circles in the western part of the state. She was elected a member of the Republican state committee at the recent convention in Burlington.

As a tribute from business men and women in St. Johnsbury, East Burke, Lyndonville and other places, a purse of $1,500 has been raised and presented to Miss Ella Wilmarth and her sister, Miss Clara Wilmarth, of Lyndon, as a testimonial to their appreciation of the services of the former, who for 42 years taught school, 20 years in Lyndon and 22 in St. Johnsbury, and of the splendid co-operation and assistance of her sister, an invalid for many years. Miss Wilmarth concluded her teaching last June and has decided to engage in a new line of work, poultry raising. To this end a modern henhouse has been erected at her Lyndon home, completely equipped, even to electric lights, and with 300 hens.

SUICIDE IN JAIL.

Sidney Rosen of Windsor Arrested in Felchville.

Springfield, Oct. 23.—After having been locked up in the village lockup for committing a disturbance at a dance in Felchville, Sidney Rosen, about 23, committed suicide by hanging at 2 o'clock Sunday morning.

Rosen, whose home is in Windsor, went to Felchville Friday to attend a dance.

It is reported that he was somewhat intoxicated and was creating such a disturbance that he was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Hucall, who placed him in charge of Harry Walsh at the Springfield lockup. Walsh put Rosen in the lock-up at 12:50 a. m.

Shortly after 2 o'clock Rosen's body was found hanging in the cell. The prisoner had taken off his belt, tied one end around his neck and the other end around the bar at the top of the cage. He then jumped off the upper berth.

Rosen comes from a respectable family in Windsor. He is survived by his parents, a brother, Conrad, and a sister, Sylvia.

Army of Modern Health Crusaders in Vermont Grows Daily.

The Vermont Tuberculosis association announces that this fall more school rooms have enlisted in the Modern Health Crusade than ever before. Commissioner of Education Dempsey and most of the district superintendents of schools have cordially endorsed the Modern Health Crusade as well as a large number of teachers and mothers.

The Modern Health Crusade was undertaken by the Vermont Tuberculosis association on the ground that good health is the best preventive for tuberculosis. The crusade assures good health because it induces the child to form good health habits, in fact to be a true health crusader a child must have good health habits for rank in this army is earned by every day doing certain definite health chores. These chores cover the proper chewing of food, fresh air, rest, posture and cleanliness.

After the Modern Health Crusade was launched the question was how to keep it going. The Vermont Tuberculosis association did not have funds to pay for agents to visit the schools, therefore, it was decided to publish a little health paper to be called "The Modern Health Crusader" Vermont.

This paper completes its fifth year next month and now has a circulation of nine thousand monthly. The growing interest in this health work for children is in part due to this little paper. The Modern Health Crusade is one of the activities supported by the sale of Christmas stamps.

Lyndonville Congregational Pastor Resigns.

Rev. H. J. Hinman, pastor of the Congregational church in Lyndonville, has resigned to take effect about the middle of November.

Mr. Hinman has accepted a call to the Congregational church in Tuckahe, N. Y. Lyndonville will accept Mr. Hinman's resignation with regret.

Finding Out How He Stood.

A bright-looking youngster stepped up to the telephone in a public place and called up a number.

"Is that you, Mr. Johnson?"

"Yes."

"Mr. Johnson, do you need a good boy to work for you?"

"No, I have a good boy working for me now—a very good boy."

"All right, Mr. Johnson. Thank you."

A man standing nearby who overheard the boy asking for a job offered him one.

"No, thank you, sir," was the reply. "I'm the boy that works for Mr. Johnson, and I was just checkin' up on myself."—Boston Transcript.

SUPERINTENDENTS' GUIDE.

Proposed by School Men for Their Own Use.

Vermont school superintendents will have a guide for the efficient division of their time in the report and recommendations of a special committee of superintendents on "Profitable Use of a Superintendent's Time," now being distributed to the superintendents by the state department of education.

The report was adopted by the superintendents last summer as the result of an investigation in co-operation with the commissioner of education. The plan is "proposed as a basis of adjustment," and the superintendents are urged to make definite time schedule for themselves.

The three things which every superintendent should be assured, the report states, are frequent school visitation, supervision and improvement of the teacher's work and prompt and systematic attention to business matters.

The following apportionment of time for a 40-hour week is suggested: Visitation, 25 hours; clerical work, seven hours; directors' meetings and consultations, three hours; public work (actual school work), three hours; district meetings of superintendents, etc., three hours; teachers' meetings, group meetings, teachers' club, reading circle, etc., three hours; office or library work, four hours; emergencies of administrative character four hours; strictly community work, two hours; definite personal professional advancement work, three hours.

Principals are also told that one of their most important functions is the planning of his colleagues' time. Along this line, it is suggested that they have directors attend if possible to repairs, fuel, book-keeping, securing janitor, cleaning school houses, buying books and supplies and such items; principals would have responsibility for high school administration, (aside from hiring of teachers, financial dealing and general policy). Teachers would be helped with routine work, by providing statistical information, the organizing and conducting of reading circles and study clubs and the furnishing of parts of programs for teachers' meetings. Superintendents are urged to visit every town at least once in two weeks.

He Could Knot.

About 30 small boys sat in a state of utter boredom while a little man stood in front of a map and made remarks about unimportant facts.

In these circumstances the unexpected entrance of the inspector was almost in the nature of a relief to the weary youngsters.

"Now, my little man," said the inspector to Tommy Styles, "can you tell me what the Equator is?"

"Yes, sir," said Tommy. "It is an imaginary line round the world."

"Quite right. Now let me see whether you really understand what that means. Could you, do you think, tie a knot in the Equator?"

"Could you indeed?" answered the inspector. "And what sort of a knot?"

"An Inquiring knot, sir!"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL
Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

Now, What's the Delay?

O. Henry's Lithopols Not Much Changed.

Lithopols of O. Henry fame, characters upon whom he loved to dwell in facetious manner, are no more, but the town has the same "business district," the same four churches and its stone quarry, remote, resembling an industry. You will look in vain for Lithopols in the railroad time tables, but the fences on Columbus, South and Main streets do not bar neighborly conversation.

The village's scenic atmosphere has changed but little in the years that have passed since O. Henry's "Letters to Lithopols" were inspired back in 1902.

The recipient of these letters was Miss Mabel Wagnalls, whose mother, Mrs. Hester Wagnalls, and grandmother, Mrs. Mary Willis, are buried in the town.

Lithopols people are proud of their town for its stimulus to the imagination of a genius, even for so brief a period, and they are proud of their former townspeople, who became noted. They live there because they love the town, they declare. The graveyard on the hill is held in reverent esteem, and the people tell you that when they die, no matter where they'd like to be buried in Lithopols.
